

Accreditation Review Brief

Council on Social Work Education Commission on Accreditation

2008 EPAS

The Accreditation Review Brief is a tool used by the Commission on Accreditation (COA) commission reader to report his or her evaluation of the program. Section 2 of the Accreditation Review Brief lists each accreditation standard (AS), related Educational Policies (EP), and compliance statements. The compliance statements are from the Compliance, Concern, and Noncompliance (C/C/NC) Statements [available on the CSWE website <http://www.cswe.org/Accreditation/Reaffirmation.aspx>]. It provides statements of compliance, concern, and noncompliance for each Accreditation Standard (AS) and related Educational Policies (EP).

- Compliance indicates that the program addressed the minimum requirements for completely and clearly meeting an accreditation standard and related educational policy.
- Concern indicates that the narrative addressing an accreditation standard or related educational policy is unclearly and inadequately addressed.
- Noncompliance indicates that an accreditation standard or related educational policy statement has not been met and has not been addressed.

The program fills out one accreditation review brief for each program level that is being reviewed for Reaffirmation. The program completes identifying information in Section 1. In the location column of Section 2, the program indicates the document name and page number where each compliance statement for an accreditation standard is addressed in the program's self study. The program then emails the accreditation review brief to its accreditation specialist per the instructions in the Timetable for Reaffirmation [available on the CSWE website <http://www.cswe.org/Accreditation/Reaffirmation.aspx>].

The accreditation specialist emails the accreditation review brief to the COA Commission reader assigned to review the program's self study for Site Team Instructions.

The commission reader types compliance, concern, or noncompliance next to each compliance statement of the accreditation standard in the C/C/NC column to report how the program addressed each item. For any compliance statement of an accreditation standard marked concern or noncompliance, the commission reader indicates her or his reasoning in the comments column.

Section 2

In Section 2, the program uses the Location column to indicate the document name and page number where each compliance item of an accreditation standard can be found in the self study. The commission reader types compliance, concern, or noncompliance next to each compliance statement of an accreditation standard in the C/C/NC column to report how the program addressed each item. For any compliance statement of an accreditation standard marked concern or noncompliance, the commission reader indicates her or his reasoning in the comments column.

1. Program Mission and Goals

Purpose: Social Work Practice, Education, and Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards

The purpose of the social work profession is to promote human and community well-being. Guided by a person and environment construct, a global perspective, respect for human diversity, and knowledge based on scientific inquiry, social work's purpose is actualized through its quest for social and economic justice, the prevention of conditions that limit human rights, the elimination of poverty, and the enhancement of the quality of life for all persons.

Educational Policy 1.0—Program Mission and Goals

The mission and goals of each social work program address the profession's purpose, are grounded in core professional values (EP 1.1), and are informed by context (EP 1.2).

Educational Policy 1.1—Values

Service, social justice, the dignity and worth of the person, the importance of human relationships, integrity, competence, human rights, and scientific inquiry are among the core values of social work. These values underpin the explicit and implicit curriculum and frame the profession's commitment to respect for all people and the quest for social and economic justice.

Educational Policy 1.2—Program Context

Context encompasses the mission of the institution in which the program is located and the needs and opportunities associated with the setting. Programs are further influenced by their historical, political, economic, social, cultural, demographic, and global contexts and by the ways they elect to engage these factors. Additional factors include new knowledge, technology, and ideas that may have a bearing on contemporary and future social work education and practice.

Accreditation Standard 1.0 Program Mission and Goals

The social work program's mission and goals reflect the profession's purpose and values and the program's context.

2. Explicit Curriculum

Educational Policy B2.2—Generalist Practice Generalist practice is grounded in the liberal arts and the person and environment construct. To promote human and social well-being, generalist practitioners use a range of prevention and intervention methods in their practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. The generalist practitioner identifies with the social work profession and applies ethical principles and critical thinking in practice. Generalist practitioners incorporate diversity in their practice and advocate for human rights and social and economic justice. They recognize, support, and build on the strengths and resiliency of all human beings. They engage in research-informed practice and are proactive in responding to the impact of context on professional practice. BSW practice incorporates all of the core competencies.

2. Explicit Curriculum

Educational Policy 2.1—Core Competencies

Competency-based education is an outcome performance approach to curriculum design. Competencies are measurable practice behaviors that are comprised of knowledge, values, and skills. The goal of the outcome approach is to demonstrate the integration and application of the competencies in practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. The ten core competencies are listed below [EP 2.1.1–EP 2.1.10(d)], followed by a description of characteristic knowledge, values, skills, and the resulting practice behaviors that may be used to operationalize the curriculum and assessment methods. Programs may add competencies consistent with their missions and goals.

EP 2.1.1—Identify as a professional social worker and conduct oneself accordingly.

EP 2.1.2—Apply social work ethical principles to guide professional practice.

EP 2.1.3—Apply critical thinking to inform and communicate professional judgments.

EP 2.1.4—Engage diversity and difference in practice.

EP 2.1.5—Advance human rights and social and economic justice.

EP 2.1.6—Engage in research-informed practice and practice-informed research.

EP 2.1.7—Apply knowledge of human behavior and the social environment.

EP 2.1.8—Engage in policy practice to advance social and economic well-being and to deliver effective social work services.

EP 2.1.9—Respond to contexts that shape practice.

EP 2.1.10(a)–(d)—Engage, assess, intervene, and evaluate with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities.

Educational Policy 2.3—Signature Pedagogy: Field Education
Signature pedagogy represents the central form of instruction and learning in which a profession socializes its students to perform the role of practitioner. Professionals have pedagogical norms with which they connect and integrate theory and practice. In social work, the signature pedagogy is field education. The intent of field education is to connect the theoretical and conceptual contribution of the classroom with the practical world of the practice setting. It is a basic precept of social work education that the two interrelated components of curriculum—classroom and field—are of equal importance within the curriculum, and each contributes to the development of the requisite competencies of professional practice. Field education is systematically designed, supervised, coordinated, and evaluated based on criteria by which students demonstrate the achievement of program competencies.

Educational Policy 3.3—Faculty

Faculty qualifications, including experience related to the program's competencies, and an appropriate student-faculty ratio are essential for developing an educational environment that promotes, emulates, and teaches students the knowledge, values, and skills expected of professional social workers. Through their teaching, scholarship, and service—as well as their interactions with one another, administration, students, and community—the program's faculty models the behavior and values expected of professional social workers.

Educational Policy 3.4—Administrative Structure
Social work faculty and administrators, based on their education, knowledge, and skills, are best suited to make decisions regarding the delivery of social work education. They exercise autonomy in designing an administrative and leadership structure, developing curriculum, and formulating and implementing policies that support the education of competent social workers.

4. Assessment

Educational Policy 4.0—Assessment

Assessment is an integral component of competency-based education. To evaluate the extent to which the competencies have been met, a system of assessment is central to this model of education. Data from assessment continuously inform and promote change in the explicit and implicit curriculum to enhance attainment of program competencies.
